RAWLINGS

Spent Friday Night in Jail
But Was Released Saturday Morning

GAVE BOND IN SUM OF $15,000

Relatives and Two Attorneys Are Sureties

REQUESTS FOR RELEASE

Of Former Piano Merchant From the County Jail Kept Squire F. S. Scott Busy Until 2:00 O'Clock This Morning—Future Action in 100 Forgery Charges Not Yet Outlined.

A. L. Rawlings, held under $15,000 bond on charges of forgery, spent Friday night in jail but was released about 10 o'clock Saturday morning when bond for the above amount, signed by himself, George W. Lane, William H. Lane, Cora B. Rawlings, D. C. Crider, W. D. Fulton and Wm. Koons, Mt. Vernon attorney, was filed with clerk of courts Bert O. Horton. An order for Rawlings' release was sent to the county jail and he became a free man as far as physical incarceration is concerned.

Magistrate F. S. Scott before whom the 100 affidavits charging forgery were filed was importuned many times Friday night to release the defendant and each time he was compelled to explain that until the bond of $15,000 was furnished the defendant could not be released. As late as 2 o'clock Saturday morning, the magistrate's telephone aroused him and some friend who refused to give his name urged Rawlings' release. Not until the telephone bell was muffled was the magistrate able to get any rest.

Future action in the Rawlings case is problematical. It was intimated Saturday morning, before the defendant was released from jail, that such action would be followed promptly by his arrest again on the ground that he has given bond in but one of the 100 cases now on file against him in Magistrate Scott's court.

Friday a single transcript was filed with the common pleas court and Judge Jewell was advised that there were 99 other cases just like it. The court indicated that he thought $15,000 bond sufficient for the 100 cases and fixed the bond at that amount which has been furnished. If the prosecution should decide to require the formality of a personal bond in each of the other 99 cases as the transcripts were filed, it would require a vast amount of clerical work.

Few people have any idea of the amount of clerical labor involved in these cases. Each affidavit contains approximately 200 words, which includes a verbatim copy of each note claimed to be forged. A warrant must contain an exact copy of the affidavit.

This affidavit and warrant must be copied on the court docket together with the court entry showing the arraignment and disposition of the case. A transcript of this docket entry, containing the affidavit and warrant and court procedure must be copied and filed with the common pleas court.

When it is taken into consideration that this must be done 100 times, one can get an idea of the amount of work required.

The clerical work in common pleas court will be almost double that in the squire's court so the court house attaches will have a task on their hands too.

Judge Jewell issued a supplemental order by telephone to Clerk Horton, to be delivered to Magistrate Scott that Rawlings was not to be detained on any of the other affidavits. This order from Judge Jewell relieves the magistrate from further responsibility in these 100 cases and precludes any action which he might have contemplated to keep the defendant in custody. Magistrate Scott stated this afternoon that he would take no further action in the cases unless new affidavits were filed, charging other offenses.

PLANS

FOR PROPOSED BUILDING FOR HOUSING STATE OFFICES WILL BE DRAWN

By Committee of Four Members of The Legislature, Appointed By Governor Today.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, Aug. 14.—Governor Willis today announced the appointment of four members of the general assembly who will draw plans for the proposed new state office building. They are Senator O. E. Volenweider, Vinton county and Representative W. K. Swan, Preble county, Republicans; Senator Louis F. White, Erie county and Representative George S. Crawford, Monroe county, Democrats. They will be assisted by T. E. Davey and D. S. Creamer, members of the board of administration and Adjutant General B. W. Hough.

The committee under the law has full power to take any steps necessary to obviate the renting of outside offices or state departments. It may either remodel the present capitol building, build an entirely new building to take care of the overflow of state offices or purchase some existing building for this purpose. It will have at its disposal each year an amount of money equivalent to the interest to be received on deposited state funds during the next two years, plus the rental now paid for outside state offices. The rental amounts to approximately $285,000 a year.

PRESIDENT WILSON TO MAKE VISIT TO CAMP OF CIVILIANS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Aug. 14.—Major General Leonard Wood's invitation to President Wilson to visit the citizen soldiery camp at Plattsburg, New York, reached the White House today. If public business permits, the president probably will accept General Wood's invitation and will stop at the camp on one of his visits to Cornish, N. H., and address the citizen soldiers. It is practically certain that if the president goes he will speak on national defense.

OIL MAGNATE DEAD.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Clarksburg, West Virginia, August 14.—Charles S. Smiley, prominent oil magnate, banker and sportsman, died at his home here last night. He had been sick for two years. Mr. Smiley won the southern regatta yacht race at Fort Pierce, Texas, in 1912, and was a participant in some of the largest yachting races held in this country.

HAULING $50,000,000 THROUGH NEW YORK STREETS

The Bank of England sent into the United States, secretly, $50,000,000 for J. P. Morgan & company with which to pay for munitions of war ordered here for the British government. This vast sum arrived in seven express cars from Halifax, to which point it had been carried by steamship. This photograph shows the arrival of several trucks at the sub-treasury, where the gold was deposited. The great sum, consisting of about $30,000,000 in the best securities and the remainder in gold, was loaded on automobile trucks at Thirty-third street and Eleventh avenue, in the district known as "Hell's Kitchen," where gangsters and criminals throng. But twenty mounted policemen guarded the automobiles. On the front seat of each were two guards carrying rifles. In fact, so much fuss was made over the shipment that half of New York was excited by it.

Violation of Safety Rules Cause Of Orient Wreck; Investigators Hear Testimony of Newark Men

Newark members of the crew of the passenger train of the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern wrecked at Orient Thursday morning testified at a railway hearing in Columbus yesterday that a flag had been sent back and every effort made to protect the train.

Members of the crew of the freight train which crashed into the other, destroying six lives, testified that they saw no flagman, found no fusee and were not aware of the passenger train's presence until within a few car lengths of it. The statements adduced were highly contradictory, even as to the amount of rain falling. A certain freedom of liberty in interpreting the rules of the company, which shared by both train crews, which might tend to distribute the blame for the wreck over both sets of men, was one of the features of the information brought out before the hearing. The examining officer was Superintendent G. B. Brooke of Chillicothe, who had with him his trainmaster and road foreman of engines, who constitute the usual railroad tribunal to establish guilt in all such cases. In addition to these and legal counsel for the railroad, the federal government was represented by three inspectors of the interstate commerce commission and District Attorney Bolin who conducted a number of examinations, and the state of Ohio was represented by three inspectors and counsel for the public utilities commission. Three stenographic reports were taken. The testimony was not given under oath and cannot, therefore, be used against the men if any criminal proceedings should be instituted. The hearing was completed yesterday. R. H. Fuller, rear brakeman on the ill-fated passenger train, was the man subjected to the most severe grilling. Eight or 10 men took turns in examining him. If the tenor of questions could be taken as a criterion there was a general disposition to hold him more nearly responsible than any other single person.

According to his statements as the train approached Orient he went through the two last coaches and announced the stop. When the train came to a halt he assisted two women to alight and then took his lantern and started back to flag the freight train, which he knew to be following and which twice had overtaken the passenger train after leaving Columbus.

He says he saw the approaching train something less than a quarter of a mile distant and that he had got a distance of some four or six telegraph poles back of his own train when the freight passed him. He could not remember whether the freight locomotive whistled

The entire event had taken from a minute to a minute and a half, he judged. He estimated that the freight train was running 25 miles an hour when it passed him.

Fuller admitted that he had not dropped a red-light fusee (torch) as the train slowed up, although he knew that the train was stopping on a compound curve. He admitted that this must be done at all times when it is likely that another train is following.

Fuller's statement also brought out that his train and the freight train had the same orders to run slowly south of Columbus because of the hard rains and he had told the freight crew to "look out for him," as the train was going to "work" all the stations south of Columbus. This was the reason he had not dropped a fusee.

In sharp contrast to these statements were those made by F. N. Rogers of Richland, brakeman on the freight train. He said he was riding on the left side of the engine after leaving Columbus. He asserted his train was stopped by a flag east of Grove City and waited 10 minutes for the passenger train to get out of the way. Again the train was flagged at Grove City and again waited for the passenger train to get away. He says the freight was running (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4.)

THANKS

OF UNITED STATES TO FORMER BRAZILIAN MINISTER AT MEXICO CITY

Will be Expressed by Manner in Which He Will be Received by State Department.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Preparations have been made by the state department to receive J. M. Cardoso de Oliveira, the Brazilian minister to Mexico in a manner which will express the appreciation of the United States for his services in the Mexican capital for the last year while the American government has been without other diplomatic representation. The cruiser Sacramento has been delayed by a gulf storm, but will arrive tomorrow at New Orleans, bringing the Brazilian minister and also Dr. Ortega, the Guatemalan minister.

Mr. Cardoso will be met at New Orleans by Leon J. Canova, chief of the state department, division of Mexican affairs who will escort him to Washington to receive the thanks of President Wilson and Secretary Lansing for his services to the United States.

ATTACK PLANNED ON SUEZ CANAL BUT IT FAILED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Paris, Aug. 14.—A plan for an attack on the Suez canal is said by the ministry of marine today to have been detected and thwarted. Announcement was made in the following statement: "On August 12, after warning had been given to the governor of Jaffa and time given for the evacuation of the vicinity, a French cruiser bombarded and destroyed the principal building of the shops of the German-Jaffa, which were making arms and ammunitions and constructing boats destined for an attack on Suez canal. The houses in the vicinity were not damaged."

Jaffa, in southern Palestine, Asiatic Turkey, is about 150 miles northeast of Port Said at the Mediterranean end of the Suez canal. In Jaffa is a large foundry owned by Wagner brothers.

The French marine ministry's communications leaves in doubt the nature of the expedition said to have been planned against the canal. It would be obviously impossible to construct at Jaffa a naval force of sufficient strength to cope with the warships of Great Britain and France in those waters and it might be inferred that small vessels were being built for a raid, depending upon secrecy and speed for the success of the adventure.

The Suez canal was the scene of an attack by Turks earlier in the war.

NO PEACE OFFER OF ANY CONCESSIONS FROM THE GERMANS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) London, Aug. 14.—Reports that Germany has made overtures to Russia for a separate peace by offering to Russia a free use of the Dardanelles, is ridiculed by the Hamburg Nachrichten, according to a Reuter's dispatch from Amsterdam. "Germany does not own the Dardanelles, and therefore, cannot offer them to anybody," declares the Nachrichten. "They are the property of the Turks, who for five months have proved that they know how to defend them. The German empire does not betray its allies."

CLEARING HOUSE INCREASE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) New York, August 14.—The actual condition of clearing house banks and trust companies for the week shows that they hold $187,232,860 reserve in excess of legal requirements. This is an increase of $21,174,520 over last week.

INCREASE

OF OVER EIGHT MILLION DOLLARS IN VALUE FOR TAXATION

Of Ohio's Street, Interurban and Suburban Railways, Shown by Appraisal.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 14.—The aggregate tax value of Ohio's street, suburban and interurban railways is now $160,887,220, according to the state tax commissioner's 1915 appraisal just announced. This is a net increase over last year's official aggregate valuation of $145,500,700. Increases over the 1914 valuation are made in 55 instances; decreases in eight instances; no changes in 24. The greatest single valuation advance is made in the case of the Cleveland Railway Co., which must pay taxes on property values $1,717,320 greater than last year. The largest decrease is that made in the case of the Pennsylvania and Ohio Railway Co., which is given a reduction of $102,370. The Columbus, New Albany and Johnstown is appraised at $135,856, an increase of $980.

FIRE ENDANGERED COLORED ORPHANS; REMOVED SAFELY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Baltimore, Md., Aug. 14.—Three hundred colored orphans were hastily carried from Saint Elizabeth's home in St. Paul street, near the center of the city, early today, while a fire raged in the furniture factory of Goldstrom Brothers, next door. The home caught fire, but the children were removed in safety to St. Francis Xavier's Catholic church and to dwellings in the neighborhood. The furniture factory was destroyed with an estimated loss of $75,000.

FORCES OF CARRANZA MAY HELP AMERICANS TO CLEAN UP BANDITS.

(Associated Press Telegram) Brownsville, Texas, Aug. 14.—There were indications today of possible co-operation from Carranza forces on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande in the clean-up of bandits which is now being made in the Brownsville section by Rangers and United States troops. It was reported today that Carranza troops last night fired on Mexicans who were trying to cross from the American side into Mexico near Mercedes. It is believed the Mexicans who tried to escape were part of the band which crossed from Mexico near Mercedes last night.

CARRANZA

SUMMARILY DISMISSED MAYOR OF VERA CRUZ FOR ALLOWING OUTBREAKS.

Official Action Has Lessened Appreciation of Americans and Other Foreigners.

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Aug. 14.—General Carranza summarily dismissed the mayor of Vera Cruz from office for permitting the recent anti-foreign demonstration which aroused apprehension of the American government. Official notification of General Carranza's action reached here today.

The navy department issued a statement relating to Carranza's discharge of the mayor of Vera Cruz, disclosing that the ousted official had been arrested. The statement follows:

"Commander William P. Scott of the U. S. S. Marietta, senior naval officer at Vera Cruz, Mexico, has informed the department that when Carranza learned of the incendiary speech made by the mayor of Vera Cruz, August 8, he was very indignant and thereupon removed the mayor from office and placed him under arrest. Commander Scott states that the local papers of August 10 quote General Aguilar as stating that the mayor's action was untimely and ill-advised. It is reported that the demonstration has been generally condemned by the Mexican people as unwise."

TAFT LEAVES FOR WESTERN TRIP TO RETURN OCTOBER 5

He will speak before the American Bar Association in Salt Lake City and then proceed to San Francisco to act as president of the Unitarian convention, and to address the Red Cross conference. On September 9 he will speak before the Bankers' Association at Seattle and will leave San Francisco September 18 to return to New York by way of the Panama canal.

Pan-American Appeal To Mexican Factions Will Be Made Public Sunday Morning

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Aug. 14.—The Pan-American appeal to all Mexican leaders and factions to restore peace will be published in the United States in tomorrow morning's papers. It will be given out tonight by the state department.

Then will follow a period of possibly ten days or two weeks of waiting for it to determine if the country has among its leaders men capable of restoring her sovereignty and constitutional government without outside aid.

Brief and couched in terms of friendship and hopefulness, the appeal contains nothing which the Pan-American conferees believe, patriotic Mexicans can resent. It is rather expected to re-assure them of the disinterested intentions of the American nation and probably even soften the attitude of General Carranza. The final drafts of the appeal were sent out today by telegraph, cable and wireless. Those to be delivered by Latin-American legations and consular officers in Mexico City went forward last night. Today the copies for General Carranza were going by wireless to Vera Cruz, to be delivered by American Consul Silliman.

P. O. INSPECTORS Trying to Locate Source of Letters Threatening American Farmers.

(Associated Press Telegram) Austin, Texas, August 14.—Mexicans in Guadalupe, Hays and Gonzales counties are forming secret societies which are a menace to the safety of Americans, according to F. G. Weinert, manager of the state cotton warehouses, who yesterday returned from a trip to Seguin, where he was called to advise a group of farmers who had received threatening letters.

STEADY

Progress Being Made Eastward From Warsaw By Bavarians

RUSSIANS MAY ABANDON NEW CENTER

Of Defense Which Duke Nicholas Had Chosen

GERMANS' RAPID ADVANCE

Since the Fall of Warsaw and Continued Pressure of Four Armies Forming a Semi-Circle is Closing In From the North—Petrograd and Berlin Reports As Usual Conflict.

(Associated Press Telegram)

London, Aug. 14.—Steady progress for the forces of Prince Leopold of Bavaria, eastward from Warsaw is taken here to indicate that the Germans are now massing their main movements on a drive through the Russian center and the continuance of the enveloping effort in the North, along the Dvina. Both Petrograd and Berlin agree that the Germans have occupied the towns of Sokolow, Siedlec and Lukow, forming a German front about sixty miles east of Warsaw and 50 miles wide. This is more than half way to Brest-Litovsk, which Grand Duke Nicholas, the Russian commander-in-chief hoped to make the new center of his defense. It is now regarded as probable that this point will be abandoned owing to the speed of the German advance since the fall of Warsaw and the continued pressure of the armies of Generals Gallwitz, Scholz, Eichorn and Flack, forming a semi-circle closing in toward the North.

Petrograd claims that the Germans have been checked between Poniewiesch and Dvinsk. Berlin, however, does not concede this, but in any event it does not affect the advance of the flanks further north, where invading forces several days ago were along the Dvina, the historic dividing line leading to the province of Pskov, which lies on the road to Petrograd. For the moment, however, the intensity of the fighting is giving way to a scramble of the retreating forces to avoid the enveloping net and the rapid advance of the Germans to gather the fruits of the fall of Warsaw.

The outcome of these movements probably will be indicated within a few days—whether Grand Duke Nicholas will be able to resume the offensive along the new front or will concentrate his energies in rear guard fighting during a slow retirement.

German correspondents accompanying the invading armies say the Russians are following the tactics of the Napoleonic campaign, laying waste the country which they abandon, so the advancing Germans find in the smoking ruins of towns and villages the same lack of shelter as when Napoleon marched to Moscow. Operations in the western field have virtually been halted, except for occasional local trench skirmishes.

War clouds continue to gather over the Balkans. A Central News dispatch from Amsterdam reports that Germany is preparing for eventualities by transporting 40,000 troops from Warsaw to the Serbian frontier.

WILLIS NOT FOR PEACE THAT IS WITHOUT HONOR

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Barnesville, O., Aug. 14.—A navy big enough, "to protect Americans wherever they may care to go," was advocated by Governor Willis this afternoon in a speech at the Chautauqua at Bethesda, Ohio.

"I am for peace with honor," said the governor, "but not for peace at any price."

Governor Willis argued also for a big merchant marine.

"If this country had encouraged American shipbuilding years ago, we would not now be embarrassed, humiliated and endangered," he said, "by having to rely on foreign vessels to carry our passengers and our goods."

It is imperative, the governor held, that Americans man American ships.

INTERESTING MEETING OF 5TH STREET BAPTIST MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Womans' Missionary Society of the Fifth Street Baptist church met in the parlors of the church Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with the vice president, Mrs. Harry Cross presiding. The following program was given:

Devotional leader—Mrs. C. M. Hartshorn. Hymn—"My Jesus I Love Thee." Scripture lesson—Romans, tenth chapter. Prayer—Dr. Stull. Hymn—"Is the World any Better."

Sentence prayers. Regular business.

Vocal solo—"He Wipes the Tears From Every Eye." Mrs. Homer Gray.

Dr. Stull then addressed the meeting, talking for his subject, "Some Present Missionary Problems." The evangelization of this world is not easy. It is the most discouraging thing in the world if we fail to keep our eyes on Jesus. The world has arrived at the point as to whether the gospel of the Apostle Paul is to rule the world. The many problems today that confront us are the same that confronted the missionaries of old. Many new problems are really old ones in modern dress. Some have been solved: Transportation, language, health and climate, others remain, and they are the most difficult.

1. How to propagate one's faith with emphasizing the peculiar doctrines of the denomination; yet be true.

2. How to reach nations more cultured than those from which missionaries go? What hope is there for true Christianity in Germany, England or Russia?

3. How to overcome the evil effects of so-called Christian nations. Saloon, monopoly, labor conditions, etc. For instance while we are trying to evangelize the heathen we are teaching them to be drunkards. It makes a difference how wealth is distributed. If you demoralize people while distributing it ought it be so distributed? How to solve these great problems it is not easy to say, but there are several things we must do.

1. We must put more money in the educational institutions in these lands.

2. We must emphasize the fundamental distinction between Romanism and Protestantism—make this very clear. Personal faith and allegiance to the religion of Jesus Christ.

3. We must put our churches in to social relations. Cannot live for themselves to themselves. We have nothing to lose but everything to gain in encouraging the man of labor with that appeal—"Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavily laden and I will give you rest."

Thank offering.

Vocal solo—"My Faith in Thee," Mrs. Homer Gray.

Closing prayer—Mrs. Eddy. After the program Mrs. Charles Allen, who was acting hostess, with her able assistants, served dainty refreshments and a social hour followed.

VIOLATION

about 15 miles an hour as it approached Orient. He did not see a tag. The first indication he had of danger was when he heard the emergency air applied. He said the engine was traveling between eight and 10 miles an hour when it plowed into the passenger train. If he had been working on the passenger train he said he would have dropped a fuse about a mile back.

Fuller, he says was standing beside the wreck, half a car length behind it, when he (Rogers) picked himself up, after jumping out of the engine window just before the crash.

Fred Stephens, engineer of the freight train, said that the first he saw of the passenger train was when it approached Orient was when it was only six or eight car lengths ahead of him, and that he immediately applied the emergency air brakes. He said that he had no knowledge that the passenger train was to stop at Orient to take water. He admitted that he should have had his engine under control at all times. When approaching Orient, he said that his engine was coasting, steam having been shut off. His idea was that he was going about 15 miles an hour.

F. J. Davidson, fireman of the freight train, corroborated most of the Rogers' statements. He said that he did not see any effort to flag his train until it was right upon the passenger train, when he saw both conductor and flagman flagging.

L. A. Scherler, passenger conductor, and a man with 25 years' good record on the Baltimore and Ohio system, said the freight train did not wait the 10 minutes which the rules prescribe after each flagging. As his train drew out of Grove City, he said he thought he saw the freight train set under way almost immediately. He said he knows the train did not wait 10 minutes.

He said he saw what he took to be its headlight going into Orient. At that time he was riding on the rear platform of the last coach. He remained on the platform 30 seconds. The flagman (Fuller) got back 400 feet before the freight passed him. When he thought a crash was impending, Scherler says he pulled the air cord for his own engine to pull ahead. Conductor Scherler admitted that he knew the rule about dropping a fuse and that had it been observed a wreck might have been avoided.

R. L. Carver, front brakeman on the passenger, and W. H. Richardson, flagman on the freight train, each admitted that it is the practice of brakemen to use their own judgment whether to drop a fuse in making a stop. Carville said that these torches are dropped if it is not a station stop. Richardson said he used them unless the track was straight for more than a mile to the rear of his train. Several of the crew of the passenger train indicated that the freight crew was violating the rule which requires all trains to be run under absolute control when they have slow orders or have passed a torch. Running under control means ability to stop within the range of vision.

State and federal representatives made no indication whether the testimony offered them was material further work. They learned that all of the crew had had at least eight hours' rest before going on duty, that the freight train had 100 per cent air brake equipment and that part of the passenger coaches were of wood; also that it is customary to use older coaches on excursion trains. Superintendent Brooke himself submitted to questions and said that some night offices had been eliminated on the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern recently because of diminished business. As a result there was no night operator at Orient.

The first witness called was P. J. Glancey of Newark, who was engineer of the excursion train and had run engines for the night for a number of years. On the night of the wreck, he said, he got orders at Columbus to "run slow and careful and look out for washout." He said that several times between here and Orient he stopped his train and had the track examined before proceeding. In one instance, he testified, the train crew repaired the track before proceeding. It was one of the stormiest and most unusual nights he ever remembered.

Glancey testified that at each of these stops he had whistled the flagman back. He said that at Orient the train hadn't stopped more than a minute when the crash came. He was just preparing to whistle the flagman back.

The only warning of the impending wreck, Glancey said, he had was a cry of "Look out" from either the fireman or brakeman. He said he at once grasped the throttle, but did not know whether or not his engine started forward.

Glancey's examination was conducted by G. B. Brooke, superintendent of the Chillicothe division of the B. & O. The examination of other trainmen concerned in the wreck followed Glancey's.

The Artichoke.

The artichoke, which originally came from Barbary, is not a botanical species, but a variety of the thistle, which grows spontaneously all along the African coast of the Mediterranean from Morocco to Palestine. It is now cultivated extensively in France, where those which come from Brittany and Algeria are the species most highly esteemed. Even of these there are many varieties, such as the Camus artichoke of Brittany, the bronzed artichoke of Roscoff, the big green artichoke of Laon and the violet artichoke of Provence. There are also varieties which come from Italy, Spain, India and Canada, to say nothing of the Jerusalem artichoke, famous for the enormous size of its leaves. In the south of France when the crop is abundant the heads are carefully picked of all their leaves and the hearts dried in the sun, put up in sacks and stored away for winter use. These hearts when boiled in water or in a rich beef broth become soft and recover their form, color and flavor. They are then taken from the pot, the water and broth strained away, the center is filled with force meat, and they are then either fried or baked.

Americana.

A native of any part of North or South America is literally an American since he is a native of one of the American continents. Usage, however, has narrowed the term so that "an American" is generally understood to be a citizen or native of the United States of America, while a native of Canada, Mexico, Central or South America is known as a "Canadian," "Mexican," "Brazilian," "Guatemalan" or the like. The reason for the usage does not lie in any feeling that the United States pre-empt, stands for or overshadows the other parts of the western hemisphere, but simply in the fact that, while Canada, Mexico, Brazil, the United States of Colombia, etc., are words which admit of adjective formation, "American" is the only adjective which can be formed from the name of our country to denote its citizens or to apply to its interests, industries, cities, etc.—New York Times.

To the Swift.

While the morning rush was on one day a young woman followed a trolley car down Broadway, running two blocks before she caught it. This she was able to do because of the jam of the traffic which retarded the car. Her efforts attracted attention on both sides of the street, and hurrying shop hands stopped to cheer her on. At Houston street, where she came panting up to the side of the car, she gasped to the conductor that she had left her pocketbook on the seat and wanted to get it. He obligingly held the car while she made a search. No pocketbook was found, but as she stepped off into the street again, her eyes filled with tears, there came a shout from behind. It was the motorman of the succeeding car, and in his hand as he leaned over his brake he held the pocketbook. "Here it is, lady," he said. "Don't cry. You only caught the car ahead." —New York Post.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these organs in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes habby, obese, nervous, sluggish, dull, irritable, wrinkled and sallow of face."

"But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects, has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its purpose, which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because of its effectiveness—though of course it is not to be classed with the real calomel of mercurial origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in 'sentinel' tablets—that's the name—and there is no about a dime's worth, and swallow one at bedtime to realize there's nothing else quite so good for the purpose. The action in the morning is so easy, so soothing, and instead of a weakening after-effect, you feel truly refreshed and invigorated. Sentinel tablets are not only the finest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the safest, most certain treatment for complete difficulties of the character mentioned."

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin

(Messenger of Health.)

Unsightly eruptions, pimples, blotches, sallow or muddy skin, are due to a sluggish liver, a constipated bowel and a polluted blood stream as a consequence. How foolish in such cases to resort to outward applications which can never have natural, permanent results. If more people only knew it, there is a very simple remedy to be found in a harmless and quick acting. It is an old formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefits.

Sentinel tablets—that's the name—are entirely vegetable and there's no habit-forming ingredient in them. You need only get about a dime's worth, and swallow one at bedtime to realize there's nothing else quite so good for the purpose. The action in the morning is so easy, so soothing, and instead of a weakening after-effect, you feel truly refreshed and invigorated. Sentinel tablets are not only the finest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the safest, most certain treatment for complete difficulties of the character mentioned."

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

They say that the advent of the "sentinel" tablet, as a vegetable substitute for calomel, has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a hit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were quick to recognize its advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives. Sentinel tablets, aside from their efficacy, demand over their success largely to a tendency to aid in bringing about natural functioning—instead of encouraging the cathartic habit. And this is due to the membrane lining of the organs involved, they exert a healing influence. Instead of weakening, they work so easily and gently, they are of violent action, purgative. Their inexpensiveness is another reason for the popularity of sentinel tablets. One need procure only a dime's worth of the tablet upon retiring, to be convinced that the ideal remedy for constipation, torpid liver, and the many evil consequences, has finally been found.—Druggists Review.

Valuable Prizes Offered Horsmen For Picnic Races; Pony Race a Great Feature

The Racing card for the big Farmers' and Merchants' picnic next Thursday at Mountbuilders' park, has been prepared and many entries have already been received by L. D. Corbett, who has charge of this feature of the day's entertainment.

More than $100 worth of prizes are offered for the first and second place horses in the various events. These prizes, as well as all those offered for other events on picnic day, will be on display in the window of the Sperry & Harris furniture store in North Park place.

The pony race for all ponies under 48 inches in height will be one of the most interesting features of the day. Of course these little fellows must be ridden by boys and as a special inducement, a splendid prize of a suit of clothes is offered for the winner and a second prize of a pair of shoes worth $4 has been put up. This race is to be known as the Warden Hotel Steak.

Race Director Corbett states that horses called for the first race must be ready for the word at 2 o'clock promptly. A limited time has been set aside for the running of the race program and it will not permit any delay.

Entries are wanted for all the events. It is important that all these entries be in promptly as the names of the horses and drivers must be on the racing cards which will be printed early next week.

There is little doubt that the card offered for picnic day, will be the best afternoon's racing this year. The entries indicate that, and the prizes offered are valuable enough.

CINCINNATI CLUB WAS OFFERED TO THE FEDERAL LEAGUE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Chicago, Aug. 14.—Control of the stock of the Cincinnati National League club was offered to Charles H. Weeghman, president of the Chicago Federals for $255,000 yesterday, but the offer was declined, it became known today.

Weeghman said that Charles B. Bultman, a broker of Cincinnati, who is acting for Warren N. Carter of Pasadena, Calif., a prospective buyer of the club, displayed certificates for 51 percent of the stock.

"Bultman assured me that he could deliver the goods," Weeghman said, "but when I did not want to take the proposition it was suggested we get President Gilmore of the Federals at New York. Mr. Bultman had a talk with him, but what he was told I do not know."

"It was not a new thing to President Gilmore, however, as the league was offered the controlling interest in the Cincinnati club a month ago. At that time the offer was turned down, as we do not wish to break up any league."

That the controlling interest in the Cincinnati club will be sold, however, at an early date, was indicated by Bultman, who said the deal probably would be closed next week.

"I am here to represent Mr. Carter, who is in Pasadena and unable to be here. He has an option on the club, which does not expire until next week," Bultman concluded.

Carter Ignorant of Offer of Reds to Chas. Weeghman

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Los Angeles, August 14.—Warren N. Carter of South Pasadena, California, who confirmed yesterday a report that he had taken a thirty-day option on the Cincinnati National League club, said today he knew nothing of an offer made to Charles Weeghman, of the Chicago Federal league club to sell control of the Cincinnati club stock for $255,000.

"I do not know anything of what is going on in Chicago, Charles Bultman is not acting for me. That is all I can say at the present time, except my dealings have been direct with the owners of the Cincinnati club."

HERRMANN DENIES IT.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Cincinnati Aug. 14.—Charles E. Bultman, a broker of this city, has absolutely no authority to sell the Cincinnati baseball club, according to an emphatic statement from President August Herrmann, of the club today.

"Mr. Bultman has no authority at this time nor has he ever been given authority to represent the Cincinnati club, nor has he authority now to sell the majority of the stock in the club," continued Mr. Herrmann. "In this connection I wish to reiterate that there has never been a chance and there never will be, as long as the present management is in control of the National League."

Hotels vary as much in degrees of comfort as the haughty hotel clerks do in degrees of flippancy and efforts to please the guests. It was midnight in a hostelry in an Arizona town, when a guest called up and, in an angry voice, said:

"There a couple of mice fighting up here."

"What have you?" inquired the sleepy clerk. He was told, and then inquired:

"What are you paying for it?"
"Two dollars," was the reply.

Minstrels Tonight.

Bryan and Roosevelt are the characters, the Mexican situation the motif and side thrills are taken at the war in Europe. In "Auntie Skinner's Chicken Dinner Party," Al G. Field's Greater Minstrels, which will be seen at the Auditorium tonight.

This section of the minstrel show is a three scene satire, garnished with music and bursting with broad fun, and hot shots at the national events of the hour. Bryan appears with his dove of peace and his jug of grape juice, and wanting to know why an investigation hasn't been started, and wanting to tell all how universal peace can be obtained. He is hardly upon the scene before Roosevelt makes an appearance literally loaded down with guns and snorting his policies and beliefs.

These dignitaries, together with ambassadors from all nations have accepted the invitation of Auntie Skinner, an amiable old colored lady, who wishes to entertain them with a chicken dinner. The gathering has been for the purpose of settling the trouble in Mexico, but, when it is discovered that the chickens have been stolen, General Bluffkins (played by Bert Swor) is held to account, and is tried. After a mock legal proceeding, full of bright repartee, the prisoner is allowed to go free.

Then Bryan, advocate of peace, becomes a rampant fighter and Roosevelt, exponent of strenuousness, makes a plea for peace. The fun goes on to a remarkable climax. This is when a bull rushes on, and Bryan, ear-whistle Chautauqua speaker, is shown in the guise of a matador.

Minstrels Tonight.

Bryan and Roosevelt are the characters, the Mexican situation the motif and side thrills are taken at the war in Europe. In "Auntie Skinner's Chicken Dinner Party," Al G. Field's Greater Minstrels, which will be seen at the Auditorium tonight.

This section of the minstrel show is a three scene satire, garnished with music and bursting with broad fun, and hot shots at the national events of the hour. Bryan appears with his dove of peace and his jug of grape juice, and wanting to know why an investigation hasn't been started, and wanting to tell all how universal peace can be obtained. He is hardly upon the scene before Roosevelt makes an appearance literally loaded down with guns and snorting his policies and beliefs.

These dignitaries, together with ambassadors from all nations have accepted the invitation of Auntie Skinner, an amiable old colored lady, who wishes to entertain them with a chicken dinner. The gathering has been for the purpose of settling the trouble in Mexico, but, when it is discovered that the chickens have been stolen, General Bluffkins (played by Bert Swor) is held to account, and is tried. After a mock legal proceeding, full of bright repartee, the prisoner is allowed to go free.

Then Bryan, advocate of peace, becomes a rampant fighter and Roosevelt, exponent of strenuousness, makes a plea for peace. The fun goes on to a remarkable climax. This is when a bull rushes on, and Bryan, ear-whistle Chautauqua speaker, is shown in the guise of a matador.

Entered at Second Class Matter March 10, 1892, at the Postoffice at Newark, Ohio, under Act of March 3, 1879.

"nothing to fear from us as long as they behave," was a departure from the Monroe doctrine, both in substance and form. The earlier attitude of this government was expressed in the rather inelegant phrase: "Let them stew in their own juice." The right of a government to protect its nationals resident in a foreign country, both in their persons and in their property, when a condition of anarchy exists, is as sacred, however, as is the right of a sovereign people to govern or misgovern itself in its own fashion. In sending armed vessels to Mexican ports and in maintaining armed forces on the Mexican border, and even in occupying Mexican territory by such forces, this government would exercise only the right of self-protection. And this right has been recognized by the Latin-American states in association with this government in the exhortation to the Mexican leaders to unite in a pacific reconstruction of their republic. As an act of comity our protection will even be extended to Brazilians and other Latin-Americans in Mexico and to European residents as well; but it is understood that no force is to be employed to compel a settlement of Mexican differences. The military and diplomatic processes are to be considered distinct and to be employed for distinct purposes. It may not be easy, however, permanently to keep them apart.

WEEK'S END.

How sweet to rest serenely in the gloaming, the week's work done, your princely wages drawn; to rest and read, the winds your sideboards combing, and watch the children play upon the lawn. I tell you this, my grouchy friend, there's naught on earth more soothing to the soul than rest that follows days of earnest labor, the toil that brings a small but honest roll. The pride of wealth, the pride of birth or beauty, the pride that swells the chests of braun and belle, seems shoddy stuff to him who does his duty, who does his tasks, and strives to do them well. Beneath his vine the workmanman is sitting, his bills are paid, some roubles put away; upon the porch his smiling wife is knitting, around his feet the tow-haired kiddlets play. For pomp and state he wastes no time in sighing, he knows how oft such longings lives have quered; and past his home the motor cars go flying, by men in debt and divers bankrupts steered. A cottage home that's yours and fully paid for, a happy frame, a sense of duty done; that pleasant lot a millionaire might trade for, and get big value for his heaps of mon.

Export of Cotton.

If Germany is able to use wood pulp as a substitute for cotton in the production of explosives there is no further occasion for Great Britain's interference with the import of cotton by Germany's neighbors. In the meanwhile that interference is having a very moderate effect upon our exports. Secretary Hester, of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange, computes the foreign takings of our cotton in the first week of August at 137,000 bales against 165,000 two years ago. The figures of last year are not important because shipping was very generally tied up during August. Here is a decrease of 28,000 bales. But France has been importing much less from us than in the previous year ever since the beginning of the war, so that only a portion of this decrease is due to the interference with supposedly German trade.—Philadelphia Record.

Civilian Criticism of the War.

To criticize the acts of military leaders and show where their strategy is at fault is the easiest thing a civilian observer does. It has always been easy. House Greeley found it so 50-odd years ago, when the cry of "On to Richmond" found persistent expression in the columns of The Tribune. Yet, "On to Richmond" was not, as it happened, the wisest advice that could have been given out at that particular moment.

Criticizing the allies is now quite as easy as criticizing the Union army leaders was then. Why doesn't France do something? With the German army absorbed in its tremendous task in the east, why are not Little and Antwerp taken by the French and British? The weight of such questions coming from persons who do not know the problems confronting Joffre—for it is he, and not Sir John French that is in command on the western front—and do not know what the strategy of the campaign is nor what strategy is in general, is without weight.—Syracuse Post Standard.

Joy in Life.

Yet the happiest people in all the world often are those who make their work their recreation and find in it those springs of joy and of refreshment which promote true growth. As most things are what we make them, it is not impossible to discover these sources of happiness in laborious or mental toil. Athletes, explorers and the like are known to go through even severer or more monotonous self-disciplines voluntarily. They enjoy such experiences because of what they mean. Those who can interpret their labors in terms of universal human service may reasonably find a still livelier zest in them than the man who strives at a task merely in hope of personal success.—Christian Science Monitor.

War Is Not the Heroic, but the Cowardly Way of Settling Difficulties

By Rev. Dr. GAUIS GLENN ATKINS, Central Congregational Church, Providence, R. I. Winner of Carnegie Peace Essay Prize

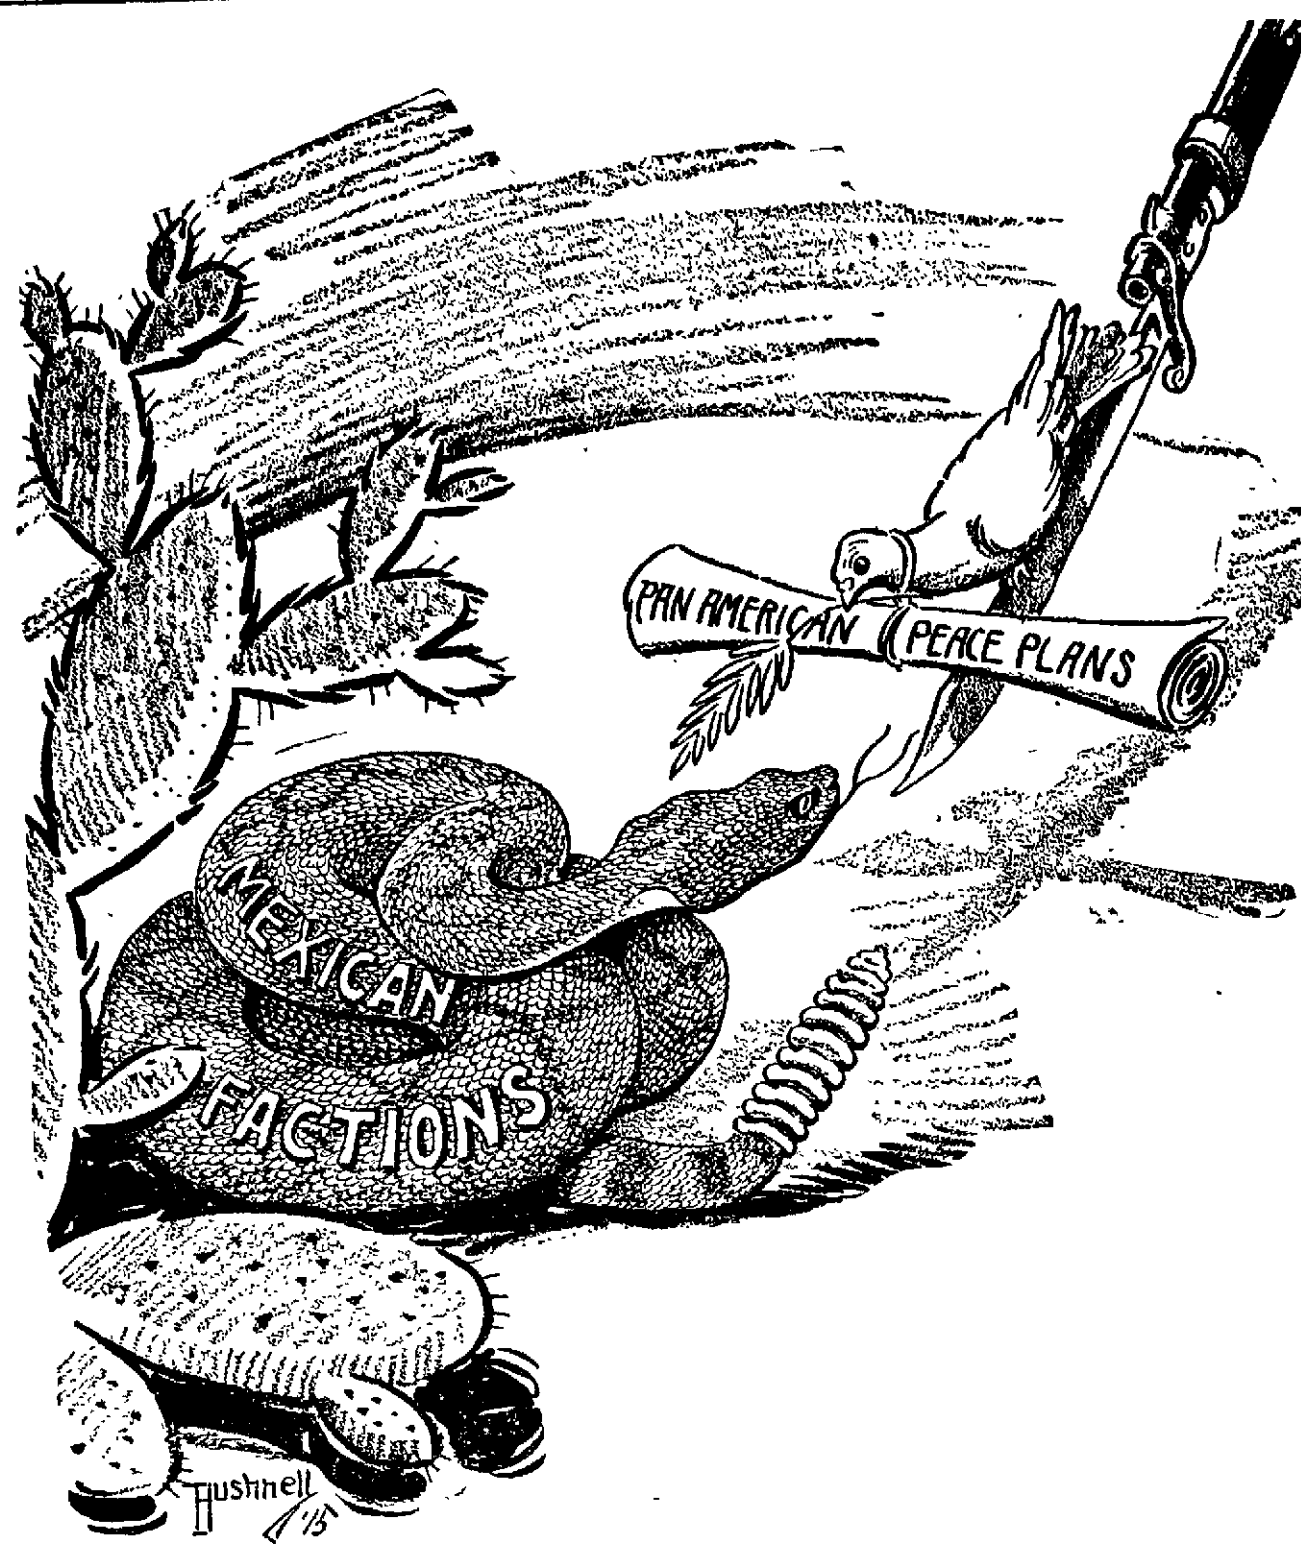

DEMOCRACIES left to themselves do not take kindly to war. There is no denying that democracies have fought wars a-plenty; but, on the other hand, they have never gone out to meet them AND HAVE ALWAYS BEEN WILLING TO MAKE A JUST AND HONORABLE PEACE WHEN THE NECESSITY FOR WAR HAS PASSED.

If we can succeed in eliminating the causes of wars of aggression we shall, of course, at the same time eliminate wars of defense. Wars for liberty and national independence, which are the only wars in which humanity can take just pride, have always been forced upon the people who carried them on. They have always been slow in appealing to the arbitrament of arms and have almost always sought to exhaust every means of peaceable settlement before they finally began to fight.

We fight because fighting is easier than keeping the peace. War is not, as its apologists would tell us, a high and heroic way out of international difficulties. It is the low and cowardly way.

IT IS EASIER TO TAKE ARMS AGAINST A NEIGHBORING PEOPLE THAN TO SIT AROUND A COUNCIL TABLE AND WORK OUT IN WISDOM AND BROTHERHOOD AND SELF RESTRAINT THE QUESTIONS WHICH THE WAR INVOLVES.

It isn't too hot nor the dog days too enervating to remember that the economical reign of Frank B. Willis begins with appropriations exceeding the estimated income by $2,000,000.

The Progressives of Ohio ought to feel pretty good over the welcome proffered them to return to the Republican party by the officials of the Willis administration. Just this week, to show the brothers who followed Roosevelt just what they amount to, thirty-three of them were kicked off from the county license boards, body and baggage. Among the number is Mr. U. O. Stevens of Newark.

It's Different Now.

Last year the Warnes law assessors in Franklin county established a base line of value for William Ritter, millionaire lumber dealer, who for the first time in his life was forced to pay taxes on his just valuation in Ohio. Then Ritter went to Washington, D. C. to live, and the Republican papers made a great to-do about the Warnes law driving capital from the state. When Willis was elected with his touted promises to let the hopeful come into their own, Ritter came marching back. But the Warnes law proved just as adamant in the hands of Willis Republicans as it had in the hands of Cox Democrats. The assessors put Ritter on the books again, and horrid thought! they boosted his assessment some million and a half dollars. Whereup Ritter set up his residence elsewhere, but the autocratic Willis assessors stood their ground. Now the Republican papers are actually giving praise for this step which would drive capital from the state.

Without Trades.

(Columbus Dispatch.)

The best way to stay out of the penitentiary is to acquire a trade. It doesn't make so much difference what it is; any trade will have a tendency to keep a fellow out of the penitentiary, according to our statistics. At least a student who has been making an investigation of prison populations has found that there are very few men with trades in the penitentiaries of this country.

In one instance, where there were 177 persons confined in a prison, not one of them was a carpenter, bricklayer, plasterer, tailor, machinist, printer, painter, or a member of any other craft. In another state, out of all the prisoners in the penitentiaries 77 per cent of them had no trade or regular occupation.

One can easily believe the correctness of the statement. It is obvious that men having a trade or a regular occupation do not commit crimes to the extent that do the people who

GERMANS HAVE NOT RELEASED AMERICAN BARK

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Bremen, Aug. 14.—Via London. The German authorities have not yet released the American bark Pass of Balmaha, which was brought into port a fortnight ago having on board 5,000 bales of cotton from New York for Archangel. The situation is complicated with circumstances which may lead to considering the Pass of Balmaha a good prize, although her cargo of cotton is not contraband.

The case is similar to that of the American steamer Dacia in that the vessel was transferred to American registry after the outbreak of the war, and so far as can be ascertained her cargo, already had passed to the ownership of the Russian consignees.

The ultimate disposition of the Dacia may be awaited as a precedent. If this case results unfavorably to the American owners of the ship and cargo, under the accepted rule of enemy cargo aboard an enemy ship, the Pass of Balmaha also may be regarded as liable to confiscation.

The Pass of Balmaha was first held up on her voyage by a British cruiser, which placed aboard her a prize crew of five men. Subsequently a German submarine halted the bark and placed it in charge of a German petty officer. According to cable accounts of the incident, the British prize crew remained in hiding for eleven days, while the German officer took the vessel to port.

Obituary

Mrs. Wiegand's Funeral.
The funeral services for Mrs. Kate Wiegand, were conducted at her late home 265 West Church street, Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. G. Thomas Haller, pastor of St. John's Evangelical (German) Lutheran church, assisted by Rev. Don D. Tullis of the Second Presbyterian. Both ministers paid a high tribute to the high qualities of Christian womanhood with which the deceased had been endowed. These had been exemplified in the nobility of her life, which had been an inspiration and uplift to the family, the friends and the community.

The many and beautiful floral offerings also bore a silent testimony to the love and esteem in which Mrs. Wiegand had been held by the sorrowing friends from whom they came.

The interment was made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Reah A. Jackson.
Mrs. Reah A. Jackson, 68 years old, widow of Elphajet Jackson, died at 4 o'clock Saturday morning at the Newark Sanitarium of lung trouble, her death being due to hemorrhage of the lungs. She has been in ill health for the past three or four years though her condition became critical only two weeks ago.

Mrs. Jackson was a native of Fairfield county, being born at Baltimore, Ohio. She came to Newark four years ago, shortly after the death of her husband, and has made her home with her sister, Mrs. J. R. Kellenberger in Western avenue since that time.

She is survived by two sisters and two brothers, Mrs. H. J. Keff and Frank Bair of Columbia City, Mrs. Albin Bair of Mishawaka, Ind., and Mrs. J. R. Kellenberger of Western avenue, this city.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Climalene is a pure white mineral substance. Free from all impurities. Try it.
Married life may be one grand, sweet song, but the divorce courts can make a duet of it.

An Athletic Heart.
The use of the term "athletic heart" has led to more misunderstandings than probably any other one expression. Laymen or parents, provided they are not of the medical profession, get a picture from this expression which is anything but correct. If they were told that their boy's thigh had increased half an inch in girth under the exercise that he had been doing in the gymnasium they would be pleased, but when they are told that the size of his heart is increased they are at once very much alarmed. Active participation in almost any sport which causes the heart to beat more rapidly will produce an increase of size of that muscle as in any other muscle, and a certain amount of this is unquestionably nature's normal and proper way of taking care of her economy. Some people, it is true, believe that any enlargement is abnormal, but Dr. Meylan and most of the physicians who have followed the athlete closely would not agree with this.—Outing.

Erratic Record In Golf.
The world's record for unsteadiness probably goes to a certain California golfer. There was a team match scheduled between two clubs, each club picking its five best men. When the match started it was discovered that only four men had reported for one of the teams. The captain of the team that had a missing man saw standing by a club member with a handicap somewhere around sixteen or eighteen strokes. His average game was about 98. As a rule he could be counted upon to go out in 50 and come back in 48. That day, to his own amazement and to the confusion of his opponent, he was out in 34, eleven strokes better than he had ever played the course before for the first nine holes. This was an upset, but no worse than the upset that followed, for, after being out in 34, he was back in 63. He got his 97, but as no 97 was ever got before.—Jerome D. Travers in American Magazine.

Turtle and Farina.
Turtle and farina taken together represent to those who live on the Amazon, be they white, negro or Indian or one of the numerous crossbreeds, what the salmon does to the Alaska Indian, the coconut to the south sea islander and rice to the Mongolian. A short run of salmon in the Alaska rivers, a crop failure in the paddy fields of China, a hurricane in the south sea islands, all reduce to the same thing—famine. On the Amazon a shortage of turtles may be tied over by a plenty of farina, or vice versa. A failure of both turtles and farina in the same year brings great and widespread distress. Farina is a crude, locally made product of the root of the manioc, a further refinement of which results in the tapioca of commerce. Farina trader a number of different names is more or less of a staple with the natives in all of tropical America from the West Indies to Paraguay.

Colors and Heat.
In an attempt to illustrate graphically the relative values for summer and winter wear of different colors in dress materials an interesting experiment was recently conducted, says Popular Mechanics. Four strips of cloth made of the same material and weight, but of different colors, were placed on a cake of ice and exposed to the sun. The fabrics were white, yellow, red and black. The result showed in a striking way how white reflects the sun's rays, while black absorbs them.

The ice covered by the piece of white cloth was not melted to any appreciable degree during the test, that under the yellow strip was slightly depressed, a deep cut was formed beneath the red cloth and a groove approximately twice as deep as that covered by the latter was melted under the black fabric.

Pinched.
Perhaps the origin of our slang term "pinched," meaning arrested, is in De foe's poem "Hymn to the Pillory." Im mured in 1703 in Newgate, Defoe consoled himself with the reflection that, having meant well, he suffered unjustly. This is the passage:
The first intent of laws
Was to correct the effect and check the cause
And all the ends of punishment
Were only future mischiefs to prevent.
"But justice is inverted when
Those engines of the law,
Instead of pinching vicious men,
Keep honest ones in awe."
—Exchange.

The Earliest Lens.
The earliest known lens is one made of rock crystal unearthed by Layard at Nineveh. This lens, the age of which is to be measured by thousands of years, now lies in the British museum with its surface as bright as when it left the maker's hands. By the side of it are very recent specimens of lenses which have been ruined by exposure to London's fogs and smoke.

For the Ultra Precise.

Professor Thomas R. Lounsbury said at Cambridge in a talk on English:

"But precision can be carried too far. The ultra precise, even when logically right, are really wrong."

"An ultra precise professor went into a hardware shop and said:

"Show me a shears, please."
"You mean a pair of shears, don't you?" said the dealer.

"No," said the professor, "I mean what I say. I mean a shears."
"The dealer took down a box of shears."

"Look here, professor," he said. "Aren't there two blades here? And don't two make a pair?"

"Well, you've got two legs. Does that make you a pair of men? And the professor smiled at the dealer triumphantly through his spectacles."

"He was logically right, but, really, he was wrong."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

What It Is Like to Fly.

In "Air Craft in the Great War," by Claude Grahame-White and Harry Harper, an answer to the question "What is it like to fly?" is brief:

The question has lost novelty, yet it has never been answered—never, that is to say, in a manner wholly convincing. The reason is that the sensation is indescribable—"like nothing else on earth," has a passenger has said. If you can imagine yourself gliding over a smooth surface of ice on skates you cannot feel and which make no noise, that may convey some faint idea perhaps of the feelings you experience after leaving ground. You are supported on something; yet you are not supported. You look down, and there is nothing below you but an empty void. Yet the machine rides firmly and securely, as though you were in a motor-car on the smoothest road.

What Is a Placer?

A placer is an unconsolidated deposit accumulated by mechanical processes, carrying one or more minerals in commercial quantities. All placers are secondary deposits—that is, the material of which they are composed was originally derived by erosion of bed-rock. Although it is undoubtedly true that under certain conditions nuggets of placer gold have been enlarged through chemical precipitation, yet this action is a negligible quantity in placers. Placers may be derived solely by rock weathering without water sorting, but more commonly are the result of water transportation, sorting and deposition. Many of the richest placers are those formed by the erosion of older placers and the reconcentration of their gold.

George's Father.

Augustine Washington, the father of George Washington, was engaged in 1732 in making pig iron at Accokeek furnace, in Stafford county, Va., about fifteen miles from Fredericksburg, when his famous son was born. This furnace had been built by the Principio company, composed of English capitalists, as early as 1726 on land owned by Augustine Washington, aggregating about 1,600 acres and containing iron ore. Mr. Washington becoming the owner of one-sixth of the furnace property in consideration of the transfer of his land to the company.

A Chinese Gutenberg.

There is pretty good evidence of a Chinese Gutenberg, one Pi Ching, who in 1041 carved cubes of porcelain paste with Chinese characters, afterward baked them and "set" the porcelain type by help of parallel wires on a plate of iron in a cement bed. It is certain that the art of printing was known in the Celestial empire for centuries before it came to light in Europe.

SOLDIERS DRUGGED OR STIMULATED WITH ALCOHOL

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Chautauqua N. Y., Aug. 14.—Miss Jane Addams, of Chicago speaking today on "Peace," before the Chautauqua Assembly, re-affirmed her statement that Europe's soldiers, in some cases, have been stimulated by alcoholics and drugs for the bayonet charge.

"My informants in England, France and Germany were soldiers, officers and well-informed civilians," said Miss Addams.

"I don't question the soldiers' courage," she continued, "but when a prominent official in the Paris war office tells me his men are given absinthe before a bayonet charge, I believe him. When a German lieutenant tells me his men were given a drug formula containing sulphuric ether among other things, to stimulate their bloody bayonet work, I believe him. And when a big Oxford university professor in England tells me his son and nephew were given rum to stimulate them in battle, I believe him."

"When common talk in all countries among the women who have husbands and sons and sweethearts at the front tells the same thing, I begin to believe that the average soldier is not sufficiently brutish and beastly to fight with cold steel against his brother men, unless he is primed with drugs or strong drink."

Miss Addams told many interesting details of her peace mission with Dr. Alice Hamilton, of the department of labor in London, Berlin, Paris, Buda Pest Rome and The Hague, and added:

"Every nation sincerely believes it is fighting for self-protection, for righteousness. Each will hold out to the end of its strength unless some neutral power offers effective intervention. Everywhere civilians are dominated by militarists. America must lead the fight for peace and disarmament. No European country can solve the riddle and the muddle."

Delights of Camel Riding.

It was my first experience of camel riding and therefore interesting if not altogether charming. The saddles used on this journey were formed of large pads, one in front and one behind the hump. The driver climbs into place in front, with a huge peaked pad to keep him from falling off when the camel rises. Then the passenger mounts behind the hump, and the camel is with difficulty persuaded to rise. This he does hind quarters first, and the passenger finds himself thrust up in midair as if on a tower. The huge pad offers no possible support, and he can scarcely overcome his desire to prevent a fall by putting his feet on the driver's shoulders. That worthy, however, soon comes up to join him, and the expedition starts. The first sensation is of being astride a table, and as the miles go by the table increases alarmingly in width, and the tyro on the back seat begins to despair of ever getting his legs acquainted again.—Wide World Magazine.

Discontent.

Success is a disease, if the reasoning of those who give the identical definition for poverty is to be followed. An excellent preventive is idleness or inertia; another is satisfaction. Find the man who is satisfied and you need look no further for human putty. Content breeds Indias and Chinas. Discontent sends Mayflowers across oceans—not the sullen discontent that does nothing, but the discontent that manifests itself in striving to better conditions, the discontent that means hard work and plenty of it. Some firms are so contented with the volume of business they have that they do nothing to increase it. But the discontented competitor is doing something, as the first firm generally finds out before going into bankruptcy. You go ahead or you go back in this world. You cannot stand still. Satisfaction too often means just that—doing nothing.—Philadelphia Ledger.

June and Matrimony.

The first people to adopt the month of June as sacred to Hyman, the god of marriage, were the ancient Romans, who considered June the most propitious season of the year for entering upon matrimonial relations. The Romans held that June weddings were likely to be happier than alliances contracted in any other month of the year, especially if the day chosen were that of the full moon or the conjunction of the sun and moon. They also held that of all months May was to be most avoided, as in that month newlyweds would come under the influence of spirits adverse to happy households. These ancient marriage superstitions were retained by the Christians in the middle ages, and even today June is considered by many to be pre-eminently the month of marriages.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Oh, Helen, I've got the dearest street costume . . . I want you to run over and pass judgment on it . . . The trouble is that Jack likes it, and really, you know, that makes me rather suspicious . . . so you come over and see . . . Oh, can't you . . . Well, I saw it on a manikin at Madame Bernard's Fashion Show . . . Not at all elaborate, and is perfectly all right for motoring or time for the country club . . . The material is Russian green faille, made in a "soldier's" coat house which has military fastenings of scarlet braid and long light sleeves ending in deep gannet cuffs . . . The black patent leather belt is very broad and has red leather inserted . . . The skirt is pleated on both sides and plain back and front. . . . The hat which I'm going to wear with it is a small black velvet toque and the only ornament is a tall black horsehair brush ornament . . . You'll come over surely tomorrow. Good-bye.

WHEAT

SUBJECT OF IMPORTANT RECOMMENDATIONS OF BRITISH CABINET.

Nature of Report Kept Secret, But May Have Caused Cancellation of Allies' Orders.

(Associated Press Telegram)

London, August 14.—The cabinet is considering important recommendations concerning the supply of food, particularly wheat, made by the commission appointed in June by the Earl of Selborne, president of the board of agriculture, with Lord Milner as chairman. The nature of the report is guarded closely, but it is intimated the recommendations include plans to increase the home grown supply of wheat by guaranteeing to producers a minimum price for their product. Owing to the magnitude of wheat importation from America the action of the cabinet on the recommendations of the commission probably will have considerable bearing upon the overseas trade. The fact that the government is considering the wheat question is suggested as a possible reason for the reported cancellations of orders for wheat from America by the entente allies.

The vote, it is expected, will be completed tomorrow. The present wage agreement, known as the Astor agreement, expires on Oct. 1.

El Paso, Texas, Aug. 14.—The military commanders of the states of Sonora, Tlaxcala, Oaxaca, Guerrero and, it is believed, Durango, have refused to recognize the authority of either Villa or Carranza, according to authoritative advices received here today.

It is said the commanders have decided that for those states the revolution is over and although prepared to resist invasion of their states the soldiers are to be used in planting and harvesting. General Angeles, second in command of the Villa forces, was appointed last night to deal with the affairs of native and foreign merchants, whose stores and goods were confiscated recently at Chihuahua, according to advices received today.

An air of mystery was added to the crime when it was found that a number of packages of money in the drawer from which the $8 was stolen were undisturbed.

Weekly Market Summary

(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, Aug. 14.—The week in the grain market was crowded with interest in the market itself again concentrated mainly around the war specialties, including some foreign currencies. The course of the more important stocks, particularly the railroads, was governed to a greater extent than usual by the general market. The market was down by the Interstate Commerce commission.

First among these was the measure to increase the freight rates, granted to the western roads, while the second order a sharp cut in rates now being charged by the Atlantic coast carriers, and the soft coal lines. Between these varying decisions, the market for railroads was somewhat unsettled, and a considerable part of the improvement made in the first days was lost later. The extent of one to three points, however, and more significant developments including the Mexican situation, and the further developments in the rates of exchange on London and Paris to lowest quotations in over a generation, negotiations for the placing of international bonds here for the first time, and French protests are known to be in progress, thus being regarded as the most permanent form of relief for the world's financial situation.

THE NEWARK ADVOCATE'S BUY-AT-HOME DEPARTMENT

A DUTY YOU OWE TO THE NEWARK MERCHANTS

Before Sending Money to Distant Concerns, Citizens Should Give Local Merchants an Opportunity To Compete With Foreign Prices.

THEY DECEIVE WITH PICTURES

They Deceive With Pictures—Favorite Method of the Catalogue Houses—The Farmer and the Cow—Would He Buy One From a Picture?—Mail Order Houses Use Exaggerated Drawings and Paintings Instead of Photographic Reproductions—Stung and Nothing Is Said About It.

[Copyrighted, 1914, by Thomas J. Sullivan.]

A book with pictures and a book without pictures differ nearly as much as a room with windows and a room without windows, for pictures are loopholes of escape to the soul, leading it to other scenes and spheres where the fancy for the moment may revel, refreshed and delighted. They are windows of imprisoned thought.

A picture is invariably an exaggeration of the object reproduced, and, generally speaking, to please it must deceive.

Of Deceptive Value.

The deceptive value of drawings or paintings over photography is recognized by no one more fully than by the great catalogue houses, hence their adoption of the most expensive method of displaying their goods to the public, well knowing that photographs tell the truth, so far as a correct pictorial reproduction is concerned, and would not be conducive to good business methods when the goods offered are faulty.

How many farmers would think of buying a cow from a picture in a newspaper or catalogue, with just a name and description under it? Of course the description would say that the cow was a fine black and white cow, weight 800 pounds and so many kinds high, free from blemishes and offered at the reduced price of $39.97 because of a spot cash deal with a stock farm which failed.

There is as much sense in a purchase of that nature as there is for a farmer to buy a buggy, "our own brand," at $21.70 when he can get the real article from his home dealer for $25 and have the privilege of inspecting it before buying. And no freight to pay.

Did Farmer Consider Everything?

While talking to a farmer the following was gleaned: "Farmers, as a rule, do not like to send their money to Chicago or any other place for their goods. They would rather buy of their local merchants if their prices are not out of reason. Merchants generally buy their goods where they can get them the cheapest, whether in Chicago, New York or Asia, no matter how much of the same goods the farmer has to sell. The price is the first and last consideration. They fix the price of what they sell as well as what they buy. Can the farmer be blamed for buying where he can get the best bargains? He wants to enjoy the same privilege as the merchants do. Fair play is all he wants."

A Business Injustice.

But did the farmer who made the above remarks take everything into consideration? Did he remember that while the local business men are maturing markets for the farmers, assisting in making roads to these markets and doing all they can to help the farmer, the mail order houses that have not a cent invested in his vicinity do not buy a dollar's worth of the farmer's crops nor contribute a cent to the welfare of the community? Yet they are getting a goodly portion of the local trade, and business men naturally feel that it is an injustice. It is and the only way to overcome it is by OVER-TISING.

Visit to Country Town.

Merchants should publish a comparison of their prices with those of the retail catalogue houses—fight them with their own weapons. While visiting a country town recently the writer made some investigations and discoveries. For example, a Chicago mail order house was selling 100 po nd grindstones mounted for $3.10. The local merchant sold the same article for $3.25; freight from Chicago, 15 cents, making the mail order article cost $3.65; seam roofing, $2.85 in Chicago and $2.90 from the local merchant, freight 15 cents per square to be added to the $2.85, making it $3 delivered; washing machines, $3.85 against $3.75, freight 25 cents to be added to the $3.85. These are facts which every merchant can prove and keep right on proving all the time.

Cash at Home Too.

Local merchants will quote prices on goods so low that catalogue and mail order houses cannot duplicate them. But you must pay cash. Mail order houses demand the cash in advance. Why not pay the local merchant in advance? Besides, when you buy from

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Mr. Don Simkins, who formerly lived in Newark and still carries a membership in the association here, writes us from San Diego, California, stating that he is having a fine time there.

Monday afternoon some of the Junior boys hiked out to the Anna White farm and camped out all night, returning Tuesday morning. They reported a fine time, except that the mosquitoes were rather numerous.

General Secretary Frank L. Johnson left Wednesday for a two weeks' vacation. Most of the time will be spent with relatives in the northern part of the state. Mr. Johnson accompanied Mr. Johnson.

Howard Williams, who has been physical director of the Y. M. C. A. at Bucyrus for several years, visited the local association this week. Mr. Williams expects to attend Hiram College this winter.

Mr. U. S. Wallock, a member of the Chicago Y. M. C. A., is in town on business. While here he is rooming in the building.

Mr. E. L. Bowers of the Western Union Telegraph force is with us again. Mr. Bowers was here for several months last winter.

During the absence of Mr. Johnson Charles Mayer is assisting with the work of the Y. M. C. A.

The "Y" ball team played two games Thursday afternoon. In the first encounter our team was defeated by the Crotons 7 to 3; the second game was more satisfactory, as our boys walloped a picked team by 8 to 2 score.

About seventy-five boys enjoyed the social which was held in the lobby last Saturday evening. Dave Pierce's singing made a big hit with the boys.

Dr. T. L. Baxter sent a postal card from Boston, where he is spending his vacation.

Demands are continually coming in for farm burs. If any of our friends have a desire to try farming, the association officers will be glad to direct them to farmers who are in need of help.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

Saturday, August 7, was a red-letter day for the Camp Fire Girls, when the Whip-poor-will Camp entertained the camp from Croton, and all together enjoyed a grand council fire. The Croton camp is the largest in the county—with twenty girls very much alive and active in Camp Fire work. Miss Sylvia Siegfried, the guardian, and the following girls were guests: Olive Etteley, Gladys Perkins, Dorothy I. Camon, Leola Higgins, Clara Graves, Weltha Durrell. The girls met at 10 a. m. and hiked to Perry's Run, where they built their camp fire and ate their lunch. After lunch games were played—a necessity after a camp fire picnic lunch—and then at the wobble call of the Chief Guardian, Helen Tucker, the girls donned ceremonial sashes, representing the honor vow, came slipping in to find their places around the fire. Myrtle Ross, Mary Johns, Elizabeth Williams were made "Fire Makers," having fulfilled all requirements and earned the twenty elective honors. One of the requirements is, "to know the principles of elementary bandaging and how to use surgeon's plaster." This requirement was demonstrated by the candidates.

The Whip-poor-will Camp gave as its stunt a very attractive Indian dance, and the Croton girls sang a song written by one of their members, which probably will win for her a National honor.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies, the girls toasted marshmallows, after which the Croton girls left, with regrets, the Camp Fire which symbolized the warmth of hospitality of the Newark Camp Fire Girls. Invitations were extended to the Granville and Yappa Yakna Camp Fires, but they were unable to accept.

Miss Harva Rose returned Thursday noon from Burr's Mills where she spent a few days with Miss Martha Stuber.

Miss Helen Hoskins, employed at Yeous' Cigar factory, has come to the association to make her home.

The swimming last Wednesday night was lively fun. Twenty-one girls were registered, including four teachers. Don't wait too long, or you'll lose your chance at the fun.

The Y. W. C. A. makes a special offer of a 35c rate for the rest of the tennis season. Two more months of tennis playing. Why don't you join while the courts are good and weather cool?

SUSTAINING FUND OF $100,000 FOR SUNDAY SCHOOLS

After a varied history of 56 years of vagrant effort, the Ohio Sunday School association is in a fair way to have permanent headquarters and a home of its own by reason of the $100,000 sustaining fund campaign which has just been inaugurated. The history of the association, covering more than half a century, shows such a close relation between success in work and a suitable income that the question is now being asked why the effort was not sooner made to put the educational work and Bible study for which the Sunday schools stand upon a permanent and enduring basis at a much earlier date than the present.

The Ohio Sunday School association as such is the outgrowth of a prayer meeting held in Cincinnati in 1858. A convention was called and held in that city and what was known as the Sunday School union was formed. Cleveland and Columbus entertained the succeeding conventions and some of the best known men of Ohio were early officers of the organization. J. N. Hoyt of Cleveland was the first state president. Bellamy Storer was his successor. At the 1860 convention there were reported 125,700 pupils enrolled in 1,663 schools. The figures for today show 1,300,000 pupils enrolled in over 9,000 Sunday schools.

As early as 1867 the Ohio Sabbath School union employed a traveling secretary and paid him $1,800 a year. The work at that time flourished far more abundantly than it did in the seventies, when the association tried to do without a regular secretary.

The first great man who lifted the Sunday school work into prominence was Marion Lawrence of Toledo, now secretary of the International Sunday School association. Marion Lawrence was succeeded by Dr. Joseph Clark, who has since been called to lead the New York state work, and he was followed by C. W. Shinn, who went from Cleveland to Columbus and is now doing special work in Toledo. Dr. J. D. Darling, formerly a Methodist preacher in Cincinnati, is the present general secretary.

In all these years when the association has had headquarters, they have been in rented rooms, and thousands of dollars have been paid out in this way, which will be saved by the new arrangement contemplated. The Ohio Sunday School association keeps in touch with every one of the county organizations, supplies workers and literature and has a staff of specialists which will be further increased by the revenues arising out of the sustaining fund.

Ohio college presidents, who have great experience and appreciation of endowments as a means for guaranteeing and carrying on benevolent work, have been first to commend the project of the Ohio Sunday School association, which is now raising a sustaining fund of $100,000 to provide itself with a permanent headquarters and to produce additional revenues for enlarging the field of its work. Practically all of the leading denominational colleges have sent hearty words of endorsement. Among them may be cited:

Herbert Welch, president of Ohio Wesleyan university at Delaware, and one of the most successful presidents in Ohio in the matter of securing endowments for his college, says: "I sympathize heartily with the campaign of the Ohio Sunday School association to provide a home and a suitable endowment for the work of the association. May you have complete success."

Dr. Albert Edwin Smith, president of the Ohio Northern university, has followed the lead of the most distinguished alumnus of that school, Gov. Frank B. Willis, and written a strong endorsement. He says: "I am in perfect sympathy with the great plan you have conceived of having permanent headquarters in a building, all your own, with adequate endowment."

Dr. W. W. Boyd, president of the Western College for Women at Oxford, formerly dean of the college of education at Ohio State university and an educator and Sunday school worker known throughout the state, has this to say: "The institution which expects to remain permanently at work in carrying on a philanthropic service of any kind must have back of it endowment enough to produce an income for its normal expenses. This will bring a unity in work which will lead to a more systematic and earnest study of the Bible."

J. Knox Montgomery, president of the Muskingum college at New Concord, Ohio, and president of the Ohio Anti-Slavery league, has gone on record as heartily endorsing the plan of campaign and says, "the amount should be secured."

The Municipal University of Akron, through its president, P. R. Kolbe, authorizes the use of his name for "whatever indorsement it may carry." As also does W. H. McMaster, president of the Ohio Union college, Alliance, Ohio, and others.

Sanitary Precautions.
"Hey, Mofke, and what do ye think of these new sanitary drinkin' cups?"

"Sure, Pat, and soon we'll have to spit on our hands wid an eye dropper!" Gargoyles.

Unreasonable.

Why Go to Church Tomorrow?

REV. CHARLES H. STULL, PASTOR FIFTH ST. BAPTIST CHURCH

Why Go To Church On Sunday? Why Go To Church At All? BECAUSE

There is a fundamental reason for church attendance—namely, that the Kingdom of God may come. Other reasons can be given, for instance, that people ought to worship God publicly; or that good institutions should be sustained in the community, and so on; but they are included, I think, in the one reason I have set forth. The Kingdom of God is the loftiest moral and spiritual ideal. It is the goal of our highest social aspirations, a world-wide spiritual brotherhood, the reign of righteousness in all human relations. However, as no ideal for society can be attained without organization, Christ founded the Church and charged it with the mission of establishing the Kingdom. That is what the Church is for and she has no other business. Having taught His followers to pray, "Thy kingdom come," He invested the Church with apostles, evangelists, pastors and teachers, that by evangelization and Christianization the goal of Christian progress should be reached. This makes the Church a unique institution. Every man who desires the best welfare of the individual, the family, society, should go to church and uphold it. If for any reason, the churches should close their doors, the prayer for the kingdom will be vain; for with organized Christianity abandoned there could be no hope for the kingdom.

Sunday from the first was the day of Pentecost, a day of holy consecration, of first fruits and of a new order of things. It comes by divine sanction and the apostles have called it "The Lord's Day." The essential facts on which Christianity rests occurred on this day—our Lord's resurrection, His first appearance after death, the gift of the Spirit to the Church, and the final Revelation. During the first two centuries after Christ all who worshipped on the first day were identified as Christians. To worship on Sunday is therefore essentially Christian and prerequisite to the establishment of the Kingdom of God through the earth.

Great Idea.

A small boy, seated on the curb by a telephone pole, with a tin can by his side, attracted the attention of an old gentleman who happened to be passing.

"Going fishing?" he inquired, good-naturedly.

"No," the youngster replied; take a peep in there."

An investigation showed the can to be nearly filled with caterpillars.

"What in the world are you going to do with them?" asked the old gent.

"They crawl up trees and eat the leaves off, don't they?" asked the boy.

"So I understand," replied the old gent.

"Well," said the boy, "I'm fooling a few of them."

"How?" asked the old gent.

"I'm going to send them up this telephone pole," answered the boy.—Chicago Herald.

out the entire electric car industry when the Anderson Electric Car company announced August 12th that the new prices on their 1916 models would range from $1975 to $2275. Although from time to time there have been low priced electric cars placed on the market, the Detroit Electric is the first high grade car to make any material reduction in price. "Notwithstanding the fact that the reductions run from $600 to $725 the quality of these cars will not be cheapened in the slightest particular," declared W. C. Anderson, president of the Anderson Detroit Electric Car company. "In fact, the 1916 Detroit Electric cars embody a number of refinements typifying the latest practices in automobile engineering. Many of these improvements are exclusive with us.
These 1916 Detroit Electrics typify the experience gained during nine years of building the finest quality electric enclosed cars produced. It has been found necessary to double our production in order to meet the demands our dealers have received, and this greatly increased production permits of so many marked economies that we have been able to put into effect these lower prices without departing from the standard of quality that Detroit Electrics have long been noted for."

Another noteworthy change in the policy of the Anderson Electric Car company is the adoption of the one-chassis basis production.

This one chassis has been brought to the highest degree of perfection that the world's largest builders of enclosed cars can attain, and upon this chassis is built four body styles.
The floor space of the plant has been greatly augmented to facilitate and expedite production.

The marked reduction in the price of the 1916 Detroit Electrics greatly widens the range of their sales and now numbers of people who have heretofore refrained from purchasing an electric car because of the high price of the good makes need no longer wait.

The Detroit Electric is a practicable automobile in any town having electricity, because of its great power and easy riding qualities, which make it an interurban car as well as a motor for driving about town.
The officials of the Anderson Electric Car company are looking forward to the next year as one of the best that the electric car industry has ever experienced. The obvious advantages of the enclosed car are establishing themselves more strongly in the favor of motorists with each passing year and the Detroit Electric represents the highest type of the all year 'round every day, and all weather car. A further reason for its popularity is the fact that it can be as easily and safely operated by mother, wife and daughter as by the head of the family and consequently many men figure that they get a greater return for their investment in the Detroit Electric than in any other type of car. And, of course, the Detroit Electric is a car which needs no change of bodies to fit it for use in any season of the year.

Cause of His Fall.
"Jack," said a friend to a patrolman who had just turned in a report about a man taken ill on the street, "what did you say was the matter with that man in your report?" "I reported," said the patrolman, with all the dignity of an accurate diagnosis, "that he had fallen down in an athletic fit."—Baltimore

MOTOR TRUCKS MAY BE DELIVERED ON TIME BY BUILDERS

Motor apparatus for the police and fire department will be delivered on time, it is believed by fire and police officials at headquarters of the two departments. The police vehicle is expected about Labor Day and the fire apparatus soon afterwards.

The salesman for the Harwood Barley company was in the city a few days ago and said that the work on the trucks was progressing rapidly and he thought there would be no delay in filling the contract. According to the terms of the agreement, the makers were given 90 to 120 days to finish the fire trucks. The 90 days will expire Aug. 25, it is thought that delivery will not be delayed long after that date.

Spillman Brothers, dealer agents here who received the order for the police vehicle, state that police from the factory indicate that the motor truck will be delivered soon after September 1.

ARREST EMISSARY

Of Old Mexico for Inciting Colorado Mexicans to Uprising.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Pueblo, Colo., Aug. 14.—Rudolph Herler, an emissary from Old Mexico, is under arrest here today on a charge of inciting Pueblo county Mexicans to prepare to join in an insurrection of Mexicans in southern Texas.

Papers in his possession, the police say, prove that he came here for the purpose of enlisting local Mexicans in the ranks of the revolutionists. Herler is credited with being supplied with adequate funds to carry out the plan.

Mexican laborers in the smelters and at the steel works, already had enlisted in large numbers since last Monday, the day Herler arrived in the city.

MOST EXCELLENT MASTERS DEGREE WARREN CHAPTER

One of the most interesting events which has recently occurred in Masonry in Newark will be the conferring of the Most Excellent Master's degree at Warren Chapter, R. A. M., on next Monday night when the degree will be conferred on several candidates by Past High Priest Van Sickle, of Columbus Chapter, assisted by the excellent team of workers from Warren Chapter, which is being drilled by Past High Priest H. W. Rhodes. For many years the work in that degree has been slighted in this city and the degree conferred in what is known as the "short form." Recently an added interest has been taken in the conferring of the degree in all exemplified form and the proper paraphernalia and accessories have been secured to do the work properly. When conferred as it should be it is more interesting to witness than even the Royal Arch degree, which has always been fully worked out in Warren Chapter. There are many members of Warren Chapter who have never seen the Most Excellent Master degree conferred as it should be and this will be a revelation to them. Every member of the chapter should see this work next Monday night if it be possible to get there. It is not a long degree and will not take much time to confer it. The refreshment committee has been at work and there will be something to eat after the work.

PREPARING FOR DEDICATION OF PYTHIAN CASTLE

The general committee on dedication of the Pythian castle here, to take place on Wednesday, September 22, had another lively meeting last evening at which reports of a highly encouraging nature were made and which showed that the work of preparation is progressing very satisfactorily. The advertising part of the movement is being carefully looked after and the invitation committee has done its work in extending invitations to some 450 lodges in the state as well as to the grand officers. One of the striking features of the day will be the drill by the Grand team of B'nai Temple, D. O. O. K., which is similar to the patrol of Aladdin Temple, Mystic Shrine. This team won the first prize of $500 at Asbury Park in competition with teams from all over the country, and will put the same drill on here. That alone is worth the attendance on the dedication ceremonies.

It is anticipated that every section of the state will be represented here on the day of the dedication, while the Uniform Rank will have at least one thousand men in line. If the present anticipations are realized.
